Dear Stadion Shareholder,

We are pleased to present the Stadion Funds Annual Report through May 31, 2021, including an overview and discussion of market conditions intended to add context to the purpose and results of our investment approach.

12 Month Equity Market Overview:

Equity markets continued their post COVID rebound. From May 2020 through May 2021, markets roared back led by technology and companies that benefited from the new way of working remotely and new consumer behaviors. Despite some pre-election volatility during September and October of 2020, stocks worked their way beyond pre-Covid highs. For the twelve-month period ending May 31, 2021, the S&P 500 was up 40.3% on a total return basis. The technology heavy NASDAQ Composite Index was up 46.01%, and the Dow Jones Industrial Average Index increased 38.79% on a total return basis. Small-cap stocks have been on a nice run since November 2020. For the twelve-month period ending May 31, 2021, the Small-Cap Index of the Russell 2000 is up 64.54% counting dividends. Global stocks were slower to join the rebound but have since provided international investors with some nice returns. Over the same reporting period that saw a huge recovery for U.S. equities, the MSCI EAFE Net Total Return Index gained 39.16% and the MSCI Emerging Markets Net Total Return Index climbed 51.47%.

Stadion's Two Tactical Equity Portfolios

The twin hallmarks of Stadion's tactical equity line-up are their varying degrees of risk management and their ability to diversify across markets. Stadion's Tactical Growth Fund ("Growth Fund") offers growth orientation while maintaining a defensive bias. For additional risk mitigation, Stadion's Tactical Defensive Fund ("Defensive Fund") provides persistent market exposure but seeks to manage risk with significant and timely reductions in equity exposure.

Stadion's Alternative Portfolio

Stadion's Trilogy Alternative Return Fund ("Trilogy Fund") is an absolute return strategy designed to be market-direction agnostic over the course of a year.

Stadion Tactical Growth Fund

The Tactical Growth Fund follows a rules-based, disciplined, proprietary model that quantitatively ranks—according to risk-adjusted return—all actively traded Exchange Traded Funds ("ETFs") that pass our initial fundamental review. The holdings of the Tactical Growth Fund are adjusted so that ETFs showing strength in the model are purchased and held, while those showing weakness are sold or simply not considered for purchase. The goal of the Tactical Growth Fund's investment process is to produce long-term market-like returns but carry below-market risk exposure.

The Tactical Growth Fund's risk-management component is differentiated from similar aspects of Stadion's trend-following strategies. During turbulent market conditions, the Tactical Growth model's intention is to allocate a portion of the portfolio to defensive and non-correlated assets instead of reducing market exposure by exiting to cash.

For the year ending May 31, 2021, the Tactical Growth Fund – Class I returned 28.53%. The fund's benchmark, the Morningstar Moderately Aggressive Target Risk Index returned 34.76%. The widely watched and referenced S&P 500 Index gained 40.30%. After de-risking in early 2020, the Fund followed its process and continued to add equity and risk positions in the summer of 2020. This initial defensive posture caused some lag vs the fund's benchmark. Our model guided us to bring our equity exposure back up to approximately three-quarters of the portfolio. The big change was our move from Growth to Value. Our U.S. equity value positions now total more than 25% of the portfolio and our lone international position is also weighted towards the value style box. Tactical Growth Fund followed its process during this 12-month period and our diversified holdings helped limit the volatility of the portfolio.

Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund

The Tactical Defensive Fund seeks to focus on both longer-term cyclical trends and shorter-term intermediate trends to balance risk and return. One half of the portfolio (core) is governed by the longer-term Cyclical Trend (CT) measure and the other (satellite) by the shorter (more safety conscious) intermediate term, Dynamic Trend (DT) measure.

For the year ending May 31st, 2021, the Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund's Class I-share gained 29.16%. This is compared to the fund's benchmark, the Morningstar Moderate Target Risk Index, at 25.54% and the S&P 500 Index at 40.30%.

The Defensive Fund's longer term Cyclical Trend measure was on for most of the reporting period helping the fund to capture a good part of the market's up move over the 12 months ending May 31, 2021. Coming out of the COVID market decline, the Cyclical Trend measure was off in May 2020 but turned on in June allowing the fund to move to full equity exposure. This longer-term measure remained on for the remainder of the reporting period.

Although the faster reacting Dynamic Trend measure flipped off and on a few times throughout the year the average equity exposure for the fund was above average allowing the fund to outpace its benchmark of the Morningstar Moderate Target Risk Index.

Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund

The Stadion Trilogy Alternative Fund ("Trilogy Fund") utilizes a multi-strategy portfolio that seeks to generate total returns, regardless of market conditions, by emphasizing lower risk and volatility than U.S. equities markets. The fund is composed of three complementary "buckets": Collared Equity, Option Income, and Market Movement. The fund's goal is to have two of the three buckets providing positive outcomes over a full year.

Over the last 12 months ending May 31, 2021, the Trilogy Fund I-share returned 9.98% compared to its benchmark, the HFRX Absolute Return Index, which returned 7.47%. This outperformance was a good example of two of the three buckets providing positive outcomes over a full year. The Collared Equity and Market Movement bucket performed well over the fiscal year as they were both able to participate in the market rally in which the S&P 500 Index gained 40.30% over that period. The stock holdings in the Collared Equity bucket and the long calls in the Market Movement bucket both benefited from a rising market. The Option Income bucket lagged the other two buckets as the fixed income ETF holdings and the underlying option strategy struggled over the year.

Stadion Observations and Market Outlook

Inflation concerns have begun to work their way into market sentiment, but the Federal Reserve has indicated it will not begin to taper (i.e., reduce its bond purchasing which it employs to keep interest rates low and money supply high, a practice known as Quantitative Easing) immediately. Growth with muted inflation, or a central bank that is ready to move to tamp down inflation expectations, can be nice set up for stocks. However, we are aware that not everything goes as smoothly as planned for central bank policy, so we will continue to diligently monitor the portfolios.

Thank you for entrusting your "serious money" to us. Please feel free to contact us with any questions you may have.

Subsequent Event

After the close of business on June 11, 2021 the Stadion Funds were reorganized into the North Square family of funds. The Stadion Tactical Growth, Tactical Defensive and Trilogy Alternative Return Funds have been renamed the North Square Tactical Growth Fund, North Square Tactical Defensive Fund and North Square Trilogy Alternative Return Fund, respectively.

The portfolio management team for the Stadion Funds has transitioned to managing these new North Square Funds. Brad Thompson, CFA, (previously Stadion's chief investment officer), Paul Frank (lead portfolio manager of the Tactical Growth Fund), and Clayton Wilkin, CFA, (Portfolio Manager) continue to co-manage the Tactical Growth Fund, while Mr. Thompson and Wilkin continue to co-manage the Tactical Defensive and Trilogy Alternative Return Funds.

Sincerely,
Brad Thompson, CFA®, Portfolio Manager and previous Stadion Chief Investment Officer

Paul Frank, Portfolio Manager

Clayton Wilkin, CFA®, Portfolio Manager

One cannot invest directly in an index. Derivative instruments can be volatile and the potential loss to the Funds may exceed the Funds' initial investment. Derivative instruments may be difficult to value and may be subject to wide swings in valuations caused by changes in the value of the underlying instrument. The use of these instruments requires special skills and knowledge of investment techniques that are different than those normally required for purchasing and selling securities. The Funds could also experience losses if they are unable to close out a position because the market for an instrument or position is or becomes illiquid.

The Funds' foreign investments generally carry more risks than funds that invest strictly in U.S. assets, including currency risk, geographic risk, and emerging market risk. Risks can also result from varying stages of economic and political development; differing regulatory environments, trading days, and accounting standards; and higher transaction costs of non-U.S. markets. More information about these risks and other risks can be found in the Funds' prospectus.

Not all investors are eligible for each share class, including I shares. Performance and expense may vary between share classes.

The buyer of the option gains the right, but not the obligation, to engage in that transaction, while the seller incurs the corresponding obligation to fulfill the transaction. The price of an option derives from the difference between the reference price and the value of the underlying asset (commonly a stock, a bond, a currency, or a futures contract) plus a premium based on the time remaining until the expiration of the option.

We believe it is important for you to understand the impact of costs on your investment. As a shareholder of the Funds, you may incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, possibly including front-end and contingent deferred sales loads; and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees, distribution (12b-1) fees and other Fund expenses. The following examples are intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Funds and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

A mutual funds' ongoing costs are expressed as a percentage of its average net assets. This figure is known as the expense ratio. The expenses in the tables that follow are based on an investment of $1,000 made at the beginning of the most recent annual period (December 1, 2020) and held until the end of the period (May 31, 2021).

The tables that follow illustrate the Funds' costs in two ways:

Actual fund return – This section helps you to estimate the actual expenses that you paid over the period. The "Ending Account Value" shown is derived from the Funds' actual returns, and the third column shows the dollar amount of operating expenses that would have been paid by an investor who started with $1,000 in the Funds. You may use the information here, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period.

To do so, simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number given for the Fund under the heading "Expenses Paid During Period."

Hypothetical 5% return – This section is intended to help you compare the Funds' ongoing costs with those of other mutual funds. It assumes that each Fund had an annual return of 5% before expenses during the period shown, but that the expense ratio is unchanged. In this case, because the returns used are not the Funds' actual returns, the results do not apply to your investment. The example is useful in making comparisons because the Securities Exchange Commission requires all mutual funds to calculate expenses based on a 5% return. You can assess the Funds' ongoing costs by comparing this hypothetical example with the hypothetical examples that appear in shareholder reports of other funds.

Note that expenses shown in the tables are meant to highlight and help you compare ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transaction costs, such as sales charges (loads). The calculations assume no shares were bought or sold during the period. Your actual costs may have been higher or lower, depending on the amount of your investment and the timing of any purchases or redemptions.

More information about the Funds' expenses, including historical annual expense ratios, can be found in this report. For additional information on operating expenses and other shareholder costs, please refer to the Funds' prospectus.

1. ORGANIZATION

Stadion Tactical Growth Fund ("Tactical Growth Fund"), Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund ("Tactical Defensive Fund") and Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund ("Trilogy Alternative Return Fund"), (each, a "Fund," and collectively, the "Funds") are each a diversified series of Stadion Investment Trust (the "Trust"), a Delaware Statutory Trust registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the "1940 Act") as an open-end management investment company.

Tactical Growth Fund is a successor to a previously operational fund, the ETF Market Opportunity Fund (the "Predecessor Fund"), which was a series of the Aviemore Funds, an Ohio business trust. The Predecessor Fund was organized into a series, Class I shares, of the Tactical Growth Fund effective as of the close of business on March 29, 2013. The Predecessor Fund commenced operations on May 3, 2004 and was the only series authorized by the Aviemore Funds. Class A and Class C shares were launched from the Tactical Growth Fund effective April 1, 2013. The Fund seeks long-term capital appreciation.

Tactical Defensive Fund commenced operations on January 27, 2004. The public offering of Class A shares, Class C shares, and Class I shares commenced on September 15, 2006, October 1, 2009, and May 28, 2010, respectively. The investment objective of the Fund is to seek capital appreciation.

Trilogy Alternative Return Fund commenced operations on April 2, 2012. The public offering of Class A shares, Class C shares and Class I shares commenced on April 2, 2012. The investment objective of the Fund is total return, with an emphasis on lower risk and volatility than the U.S. equity markets.

As of May 31, 2021, each Fund offers three classes of shares, Class A, Class C, and Class I. Class A shares are sold subject to a maximum front-end sales load equal to 5.75% of the offering price and a distribution and/or service fee of up to 0.25% of the average net assets attributable to Class A shares, and are also sold subject to a 1.00% contingent deferred sales load on purchases at or above $1 million if redeemed within 12 months of purchase. Class C shares are sold subject to a distribution and/or service fee of up to 1.00% of the average daily net assets attributable to Class C shares and, effective October 1, 2012, sold subject to a 1.00% contingent deferred sales load if redeemed within one year of purchase. Class I shares are sold without any sales loads and distribution and/or service fees. Each class of shares represents an interest in the same assets of the Funds, has the same rights and is identical in all material respects except that (1) the classes bear differing levels of sales loads and distribution fees; (2) certain other class specific expenses will be borne solely by the class to which such expenses are attributable; (3) each class has exclusive voting rights with respect to matters relating to its arrangements; and (4) Class I shares are, generally, available for certain broker-dealers and financial intermediaries that have entered into appropriate arrangements with the Funds.

Following discussions held on September 23, 2020, October 22, 2020, October 27, 2020, December 23, 2020, and January 5, 2021, the Board of Trustees ("Board") of the Stadion Trust unanimously approved an Agreement and Plan of Reorganization (the "Plan"), pursuant to which each Stadion Fund has been reorganized with and into a newly formed series (each, an "NSI Fund") of the North Square Investments Trust, a Delaware statutory trust ("NSI Trust"), with the NSI Funds being the surviving funds for accounting and performance purposes (the "Transaction"). The Transaction, which was recommended by Stadion Money Management, LLC, the investment adviser to each Stadion Fund ("Stadion"), has resulted in: (i) all of the assets of each Stadion Fund being transferred to the corresponding NSI Fund; (ii) the NSI Fund assuming all liabilities, expenses, costs, charges and reserves of the corresponding Stadion Fund, in exchange for full and fractional shares of beneficial interest of the applicable class of the corresponding NSI Fund ("NSI Shares"), and (iii) the NSI Shares being distributed immediately after the closing of the Transaction by each Stadion Fund to its shareholders in liquidation of such Stadion Fund.

Following the Transaction, the investment adviser to each Reorganized Fund is NSI. Founded in 2018, NSI is an independent, multi-boutique investment firm dedicated to delivering differentiated active investment strategies to the market, with a principal location at 10 South LaSalle Street, Suite 1925, Chicago, IL 60603. NSI has engaged, on behalf of each Reorganized Fund, NSI Retail Advisors, LLC ("NSIRA"), a limited liability company formed in Delaware and an affiliate of NSI, to serve as a sub-adviser to each NSI Fund.

The investment objective, principal investment strategies, policies and risks of each NSI Fund are the same or substantially similar to those of the corresponding Fund. Additionally, Stadion's portfolio management team has transitioned to NSIRA, and therefore the portfolio management team of each Stadion Fund has remained the same immediately following the Transaction. The Transaction was tax-free for each Stadion Fund and its shareholders (which means that no gain or loss would be recognized directly by the Stadion Fund or its shareholders as a result of the Transaction).

2. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The following is a summary of the Funds' significant accounting policies used in the preparation of their financial statements. The policies are in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America ("GAAP"). The Funds are considered investment companies for financial reporting purposes under GAAP and follow the accounting and reporting guidance applicable to investment companies in the Financial Accounting Standards Board Accounting Standards Codification Topic 946.

Security Valuation: The Funds' investments in securities are carried at market value. Securities listed on an exchange or quoted on a national market system are valued at the last sales price as of the time regular trading closes on the New York Stock Exchange (normally, 4:00 p.m. Eastern Time). Securities traded in the NASDAQ market are valued at the NASDAQ Official Closing Price. Other securities, including listed securities for which no sale was reported on that date, are valued at the most recent bid price. Open-end investment companies, including money market funds, are valued at the net asset value reported by such registered open-end investment companies.

Instruments with maturities of 60 days or less are valued at amortized cost, which approximates market value. Options are valued at the mean of the National Best Bid and Offer (NBBO) prices as determined by the Options Pricing Reporting Authority (ORPA) (which is the best bid and offer price across the option exchanges). If no bid price is readily available, then the option will be valued at the mean of the last quoted ask price and $0.00. If: (i) no bid price is readily available, and (ii) no ask price is readily available, then the option will be valued at the last valid NBBO mean price. Notwithstanding the foregoing, an option may be valued using Fair Valuation when reliable last NBBO prices as of the Valuation Time are not readily available. Securities and assets for which representative market quotations are not readily available or which cannot be accurately valued using the Funds' normal pricing procedures are valued at fair value as determined in good faith under policies approved by the Board of Trustees (the "Trustees") and will be classified as Level 2 or 3 within the fair value hierarchy (see below), depending on the inputs used. Fair value pricing may be used, for example, in situations where (i) a portfolio security is so thinly traded that there have been no transactions for that security over an extended period of time; (ii) an event occurs after the close of the exchange on which a portfolio security is principally traded that is likely to have changed the value of the portfolio security prior to the Funds' net asset value calculations; (iii) the exchange on which the portfolio security is principally traded closes early; or (iv) trading of the portfolio security is halted during the day and does not resume prior to the Funds' net asset value calculations. A portfolio security's "fair value" price may differ from the price next available for that portfolio security using the Funds' normal pricing procedures. GAAP establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires certain disclosures about fair value measurements.

Valuation of Fund of Funds: Funds may operate as funds of funds whose investments include a portfolio of open-end investment companies. As indicated above, open-end investment companies are valued at their respective net asset values as reported by such investment companies. Open-end investment companies value securities in their portfolios for which market quotations are readily available at their market values (generally the last reported sale price) and all other securities and assets at their fair value based on the methods established by the board of directors of the open-end investment companies.

GAAP establishes a single authoritative definition of fair value, sets out a framework for measuring fair value and requires certain disclosures about fair value measurements.

Various inputs are used in determining the value of the Funds' investments. These inputs are summarized in the three broad levels listed below:

- Level 1 – quoted prices in active markets for identical securities
- Level 2 – other significant observable inputs
- Level 3 – significant unobservable inputs

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risks associated with investing in those securities. The inputs used to measure fair value may fall into different levels of the fair value hierarchy. In such cases, for disclosure purposes, the level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement falls in its entirety is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The following is a summary of the inputs used to value each Fund's investments as of May 31, 2021 by security type:

* See Schedule of Investments for Common Stocks determined by sector and industry.

There were no Level 3 securities held in any of the Funds during the year ended May 31, 2021.

Share Valuation: The net asset value per share of each class of shares of each Fund is calculated daily by dividing the total value of the assets attributable to that class, less liabilities attributable to that class, by the number of shares of that class outstanding.

Securities Transactions and Investment Income: Security transactions are accounted for on trade date. Gains and losses on securities sold are determined on a specific identification basis. Dividend income is recorded on the ex-dividend date. Interest income is accrued as earned.

Option Transactions: The Funds may purchase and write put and call options on broad-based U.S. and International stock indices or ETFs that replicate the performance of broad-based U.S. and International stock indices as well as short term futures ETFs and bond ETFs. When held, the Funds use option contracts on broad-based U.S. and International stock indices for the purpose of seeking to generate return and manage risk exposure among varying market conditions.

Exchange-Traded Funds ("ETFs"): The Funds may invest in ETFs, which are funds whose shares are traded on a national exchange. ETFs may be based on underlying equity or fixed income securities, as well as commodities or currencies. ETFs do not sell individual shares directly to investors and only issue their shares in large blocks known as "creation units." The investor purchasing a creation unit then sells the individual shares on a secondary market. Although similar diversification benefits may be achieved through an investment in another investment company, ETFs generally offer greater liquidity and lower expenses. Because an ETF incurs its own fees and expenses, shareholders of a fund investing in an ETF will indirectly bear those costs. Such funds will also incur brokerage commissions and related charges when purchasing or selling shares of an ETF. Unlike typical investment company shares, which are valued once daily, shares in an ETF may be purchased or sold on a securities exchange throughout the trading day at market prices.

Allocation Between Classes: Investment income earned, realized capital gains and losses, and unrealized appreciation and depreciation are allocated daily to each class of shares based upon its proportionate share of total net assets of the respective Fund. Class specific expenses are charged directly to the class incurring the expense. Common expenses which are not attributable to a specific class are allocated daily to each class of shares based upon its proportionate share of total net assets of the respective Fund.

Distributions to Shareholders: Each of the Funds may distribute its net investment income to its shareholders quarterly, but, in any event, expects to distribute substantially all of its net investment income to its shareholders at least annually. Net realized gains, if any, are distributed at least once each year. The amount of distributions from net investment income and net realized gains are determined in accordance with federal income tax regulations, which may differ from GAAP. These "book/tax" differences are either temporary or permanent in nature and are primarily due to losses deferred due to wash sales and tax treatment of short term capital gains. Dividends and distributions are recorded on the ex-dividend date.

Use of Estimates: The preparation of financial statements in conformity with GAAP requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, and revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Federal Income Taxes: It is each Fund's policy to continue to comply with the special provisions of Subchapter M of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, applicable to regulated investment companies. As provided therein, in any fiscal year in which a Fund so qualifies and distributes at least 90% of its taxable net income, the Fund (but not the shareholders) will be relieved of federal income tax on the income distributed. Accordingly, no provision for income taxes has been made.

In order to avoid imposition of the excise tax applicable to regulated investment companies, it is also each Fund's intention to declare as dividends in each calendar year at least 98% of its net investment income (earned during the calendar year) and 98.2% of its net realized capital gains (earned during the twelve months ended October 31) plus undistributed amounts from prior years.

3. SECURITY TRANSACTIONS

During the year ended May 31, 2021, cost of purchases and proceeds from sales and maturities of investment securities, other than short-term investments and U.S. government securities, amounted to:

	Tactical Growth Fund	Tactical Defensive Fund
Purchases	$ 399,046,426	$ 251,954,129
Sales	$ 386,777,865	$ 272,871,073

	Trilogy Alternative Return Fund
Purchases	$ 5,711,609
Sales	$ 14,247,634

4. TAX MATTERS

The tax character of distributions made during the year ended May 31, 2021 and May 31, 2020 was as follows:

	Ordinary Income	Long-term Capital Gains	Tax Return of Capital	Total Distributions
Tactical Growth Fund
5/31/2021	$ 76,516	$ —	$ —	$ 76,516
5/31/2020	2,805,309	22,307,569	—	25,112,878

5/31/2020	1,040,637	—	—	1,040,637

Reclassifications:

As of May 31, 2021, the following differences between book and tax accounting were reclassified. These differences had no effect on net assets:

Fund	Paid-in capital	Distributable Earnings
Tactical Growth Fund	$ —	$ —
Tactical Defensive Fund	(259,996)	259,996
Trilogy Alternative Return Fund	—	—

Tax Basis of Investments:

As of May 31, 2021, the aggregate cost of investments and other financial instruments, gross unrealized appreciation (depreciation) and net unrealized appreciation for Federal tax purposes was as follows:

Tactical Growth Fund
Tax cost of portfolio investments	$ 434,032,577
Gross unrealized appreciation	$ 162,542,863
Gross unrealized depreciation	(40,905)
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 162,501,958

Tactical Defensive Fund
Tax cost of portfolio investments	$ 85,453,434
Gross unrealized appreciation	$ 10,960,441
Gross unrealized depreciation	—
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 10,960,441

Trilogy Alternative Return Fund
Tax cost of portfolio investments	$ 37,110,316
Gross unrealized appreciation	$ 14,797,594
Gross unrealized depreciation	(4,835,344)
Net unrealized appreciation	$ 9,962,250

The difference between the federal income tax cost of portfolio investments and other financial instruments and the financial statement cost for Tactical Growth Fund, Tactical Defensive Fund and Trilogy Alternative Return Fund is due to certain timing differences in the recognition of capital gains or losses under income tax regulations and GAAP. These “book/tax” differences are temporary in nature and are due to the tax deferral of losses on wash sales and certain market to market adjustments.

Components of Earnings:

At May 31, 2021, components of distributable earnings (accumulated deficit) on a tax basis were as follows:

	Tactical Growth Fund	Tactical Defensive Fund	Trilogy Alternative Return Fund
Undistributed ordinary income	$ 19,279,146	$ —	$ —
Accumulated capital gains (losses) on investments	8,624,965	(21,223,105)	(2,921,468)
Net unrealized appreciation on investments	162,501,958	10,960,441	9,962,250
Other cumulative effect of timing differences	—	(496,296)	—
Total	$ 190,406,069	$ (10,758,960)	$ 7,040,782

Capital Loss Carryforward:

As of May 31, 2021, the Funds have the following capital loss carryforwards. These capital losses carryforwards may be utilized in future years to offset net realized capital gains, if any, prior to distributing such gains to shareholders.

Capital loss carryovers used during the year ending May 31, 2021 were:

Fund	Amount
Tactical Defensive Fund	$ 1,612,456
Trilogy Alternative Return Fund	1,427,473

Under current law, capital losses maintain their character as short-term or long-term and are carried forward to the next tax year without expiration. As of May 31, 2021, the following amounts are available as carry forwards to the next tax year:

Fund	Short-Term	Long-Term
Tactical Defensive Fund	$ 17,480,557	$ 3,187,786
Trilogy Alternative Return Fund	2,921,468	—

Capital Losses arising in the post-October period of the current fiscal year may be deferred to the next fiscal year if the fund elects to defer the recognition of these losses. When this election is made, any losses recognized during the period are treated as having occurred on the first day of the next fiscal year separate from and in addition to the application of normal capital loss carry forwards as described above.

The Funds elect to defer to the tax year ending May 31, 2022, capital losses recognized during the period November 1, 2020 to May 31, 2021 in the amount of:

Fund	Amount
Tactical Defensive Fund	$ 554,762

The Funds elect to defer to the tax year ending May 31, 2022, late year ordinary losses recognized in the amount of:

Fund	Amount
Tactical Defensive Fund	$ 496,296

As of and during the year ended May 31, 2021, the Funds did not have a liability for any unrecognized tax benefits. The Funds file U.S. federal, state, and local tax returns as required. The Funds' tax returns are subject to examination by the relevant tax authorities until expiration of the applicable statute of limitations which is generally three years after the filing of the tax return. Tax returns for open years have incorporated no uncertain tax positions that require a provision for income taxes.

5. TRANSACTIONS WITH AFFILIATES

Investment Advisory Agreements

Each Fund's investments have been managed by Stadion Money Management, LLC (the "Advisor") under the terms of an Investment Advisory Agreement (the "Advisory Agreements"). Under the Advisory Agreements, each Fund has agreed to pay the Advisor an investment advisory fee at an annual rate of 1.25% of its average daily net assets up to $150 million, 1.00% of such assets over $150 million up to $500 million, and 0.85% of such assets over $500 million.

The Advisor has entered into an Expense Limitation Agreement with the Tactical Growth Fund under which it has agreed to waive its fees and to assume other expenses of the Fund, if necessary, in an amount that limits the annual operating expenses of Class A shares, Class C shares, and Class I shares of the Fund (exclusive of interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, extraordinary expenses, "acquired fund fees and expenses"; and amounts, if any, payable pursuant to the plan adopted in accordance with Rule 12b-1) to not more than 1.30% of the average daily net assets allocable to each Class until October 1, 2021. As a result of a reorganization that was completed after the close of business on June 11, 2021, the Tactical Growth Fund is now the North Square Tactical Growth Fund. The new Fund's Expense Limitation Agreement is in effect until January 19, 2023.

The Advisor has entered into an Expense Limitation Agreement with respect to the Tactical Defensive Fund under which it has agreed to waive its fees and to assume other expenses of the Funds, if necessary, in an amount that limits the annual operating expenses of Class A shares, Class C shares, and Class I shares of the Funds (exclusive of interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, extraordinary expenses, "acquired fund fees and expenses"; and amounts, if any, payable pursuant to the plan adopted in accordance with Rule 12b-1) to not more than 1.70% of the average daily net assets allocable to each Class until October 1, 2021. As a result of a reorganization that was completed after the close of business on June 11, 2021, the Tactical Defensive Fund is now the North Square Tactical Defensive Fund. The new Fund's Expense Limitation Agreement is in effect until January 19, 2023.

The Advisor has entered into an Expense Limitation Agreement with respect to the Trilogy Alternative Return Fund under which it has agreed to waive its fees and to assume other expenses of the Fund, if necessary, in an amount that limits the annual operating expenses of Class A shares, Class C shares, and Class I shares of the Fund (exclusive of interest, taxes, brokerage commissions, extraordinary expenses, "acquired fund fees and expenses"; and amounts, if any, payable pursuant to the plan adopted in accordance with Rule 12b-1) to not more than 1.38% of the average daily net assets allocable to each Class until October 1, 2021. As a result of a reorganization that was completed after the close of business on June 11, 2021, the Trilogy Alternative Return Fund is now the North Square Trilogy Alternative Return Fund. The new Fund's Expense Limitation Agreement is in effect until January 19, 2023.

Accordingly, during the year ended May 31, 2021, the Advisor waived fees and reimbursed expenses as follows:

	Tactical Growth Fund	Trilogy Alternative Return Fund
Expenses waived by Advisor	$ (125,966)	$ (193,170)
Recoupment of previously waived fees	23,172	—
Total	$ (102,794)	$ (193,170)

During the year ended May 31, 2021, there were no advisory fees waived or expenses reimbursed by the Advisor for the Tactical Defensive Fund.

It is expected that the Expense Limitation Agreements will continue from year-to-year, provided such continuance is approved by the Trustees.

If the Advisor so requests, the Advisor may recapture from the Tactical Growth Fund any Tactical Growth Fund operating expenses waived or reimbursed by the Advisor pursuant to the Tactical Growth Fund's Expense Limitation Agreement that had the effect of reducing Fund Operating Expenses from 1.70% (or lower) to 1.30% from the time the Tactical Growth Fund initially incurred, or the Advisor initially waived or reimbursed, such expenses for a period of three years; provided, however, that the total annual Fund Operating Expenses for the applicable following year, after giving effect to the repayment, shall not exceed 1.30% of the average daily net assets of the Fund (or any lower expense limitation or limitations to which the parties may otherwise agree).

If the Advisor so requests, the Advisor may recapture from the Trilogy Alternative Return Fund any Trilogy Alternative Return Fund operating expenses waived or reimbursed by the Advisor pursuant to the Trilogy Alternative Return Fund's Expense Limitation Agreement that had the effect of reducing Fund Operating Expenses from 1.70%

(or lower) to 1.38% from the time the Trilogy Alternative Return Fund initially incurred, or the Advisor initially waived or reimbursed, such expenses for a period of three years; provided, however, that the total annual Fund Operating Expenses for the applicable following year, after giving effect to the repayment, shall not exceed 1.38% of the average daily net assets of the Fund (or any lower expense limitation or limitations to which the parties may otherwise agree).

As of May 31, 2021, the balance of recoupable expenses for the Tactical Growth Fund and the Trilogy Alternative Return Fund was as follows:

Fund	2022	2023	2024	Total
Tactical Growth Fund	$138,350	$158,894	$125,966	$423,210
Trilogy Alternative Return Fund	225,715	188,692	193,170	607,577

As part of the reorganization the Advisor of the Reorganized Funds is not eligible to recoup any of the amounts illustrated in the chart above.

The Chief Compliance Officer of the Trust is an employee of the Advisor. The Trust reimburses the Advisor 50% of the employee's annual base salary for the services provided by the Chief Compliance Officer of the Trust. Each Fund bears a proportionate share of this fee based on an allocation approved by the Trustees.

Certain Trustees and officers of the Trust are also officers of the Advisor.

Fund Accounting and Administration Agreement

ALPS Fund Services, Inc. ("ALPS" and the "Administrator") provides administrative, fund accounting and other services to the Funds under the Administration, Bookkeeping and Pricing Services Agreement with the Trust. The Funds pay ALPS customary fees for providing these services.

Transfer Agent and Shareholder Services Agreement

ALPS serves as transfer, dividend paying and shareholder servicing agent for the Funds (the "Transfer Agent") under a Transfer Agency and Services Agreement with the Trust. The Funds pay ALPS customary fees for providing these services.

Distribution Plan

The Trust has adopted plans of distribution (the "Plans") pursuant to Rule 12b-1 under the 1940 Act that permit Class A shares and Class C shares of each Fund to directly incur or reimburse the Funds' principal underwriter for certain expenses related to the distribution of its shares. The annual limitation for payment of expenses pursuant to the Plans is 0.25% of each Fund's average daily net assets attributable to Class A shares and 1.00% of each Fund's average daily net assets attributable to Class C shares. The Trust has not adopted a plan of distribution with respect to Class I shares. The expenses of the Plans are reflected as distribution fees in the Statements of Operations of the Funds.

Distribution Agreement

ALPS Distributors, Inc. ("ADI" or the "Distributor") acts as the distributor of the Funds' shares pursuant to a Distribution Agreement with the Trust. Under the terms of a Distribution Agreement with the Trust, the Distributor provides distribution services to the Trust and serves as principal underwriter to the Funds. ADI receives no compensation from the Funds. ADI is the distributor of the Fund's through the reorganization on June 11, 2021.

6. DERIVATIVE TRANSACTIONS

Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities: The following discloses the Funds' use of derivative instruments and hedging activities.

The Funds' investment objectives not only permit the Funds to purchase investment securities, they also allow certain Funds to enter into various types of derivative contracts such as purchased and written options. In doing so, the Funds will employ strategies in differing combinations to permit them to increase, decrease, or change the level or types of exposure to market factors. Central to those strategies are features inherent to derivatives that make them more attractive for this purpose than equity or debt securities; they require little or no initial cash investment, they can focus exposure on only certain selected risk factors, and they may not require the ultimate receipt or delivery of the underlying security (or securities) to the contract. This may allow the Funds to pursue their objectives more quickly and efficiently than if they were to make direct purchases or sales of securities capable of effecting a similar response to market factors.

Market Risk Factors: In pursuit of their investment objectives, the Funds may seek to use derivatives to increase or decrease their exposure to the following market risk factors:

Equity Risk: Equity risk relates to the change in value of equity securities as they relate to increases or decreases in the general market.

Interest Rate Risk: Interest rate risk refers to the fluctuations in value of fixed-income securities resulting from the inverse relationship between price and yield. For example, an increase in general interest rates will tend to reduce market value of fixed income investments and a decline in general interest rates will tend to increase the value of such investments. In addition, debt securities with longer maturities, which tend to have higher yields, are subject to potentially greater fluctuations in value from changes in interest rates than obligations with shorter maturities.

Risk of Investing in Derivatives: The Funds' use of derivatives can result in losses due to unanticipated changes in the market risk factors and the overall market.

Derivatives may have little or no initial cash investment relative to their market value exposure and therefore can produce significant gains or losses in excess of their cost. This use of embedded leverage allows the Funds to increase their market value exposure relative to their net assets and can substantially increase the volatility of the Funds' performance.

Additional associated risks from investing in derivatives also exist and potentially could have significant effects on the valuation of the derivative and the Funds. Typically, the associated risks are not the risks that the Funds are attempting to increase or decrease exposure to, per their investment objectives, but are the additional risks from investing in derivatives.

Examples of these associated risks are liquidity risk, which is the risk that the Funds will not be able to sell the derivative in the open market in a timely manner, and counterparty credit risk, which is the risk that the counterparty will not fulfill its obligation to the Funds.

Futures: Certain Funds may invest in futures contracts in accordance with their investment objectives. Each Fund does so for a variety of reasons, including for cash management, hedging or non-hedging purposes in an attempt to achieve investment returns consistent with the Fund's investment objective. A futures contract provides for the future sale by one party and purchase by another party of a specified quantity of the security or other financial instrument at a specified price and time. A futures contract on an index is an agreement pursuant to which two parties agree to take or make delivery of an amount of cash equal to the difference between the value of the index at the close of the last trading day of the contract and the price at which the index contract was originally written. Futures transactions may result in losses in excess of the amount invested in the futures contract. There can be no guarantee that there will be a correlation between price movements in the hedging vehicle and in the portfolio securities being hedged. An incorrect correlation could result in a loss on both the hedged securities in a Fund and the hedging vehicle so that the portfolio return might have been greater had hedging not been attempted. There can be no assurance that a liquid market will exist at a time when a Fund seeks to close out a futures contract or a futures option position. Lack of a liquid market for any reason may prevent a Fund from liquidating an unfavorable position, and the Fund would remain obligated to meet margin requirements until the position is closed. In addition, a Fund could be exposed to risk if the counterparties to the contracts are unable to meet the terms of their contracts. With exchange-traded futures, there is minimal counterparty credit risk to the Funds since futures are exchange-traded and the exchange's clearinghouse, as counterparty to all exchange-traded futures, guarantees the futures against default.

When a purchase or sale of a futures contract is made by a Fund, the Fund is required to deposit with its custodian (or broker, if legally permitted) a specified amount of liquid assets ("initial margin"). The margin required for a futures contract is set by the exchange on which the contract is traded and may be modified during the term of the contract. The initial margin is in the nature of a performance bond or good faith deposit on the futures contract that is returned to a Fund upon termination of the contract, assuming all contractual obligations have been satisfied. Each day a Fund may pay or receive cash, called "variation margin," equal to the daily change in value of the futures contract. Such payments or receipts are recorded for financial statement purposes as unrealized gains or losses by a Fund. Variation margin does not represent a borrowing or loan by a Fund but is instead a settlement between a Fund and the broker of the amount one would owe the other if the futures contract expired. When the contract is closed, a Fund records a realized gain or loss equal to the difference between the value of the contract at the time it was opened and the value at the time it was closed. No Funds invested in futures contracts during the year ended May 31, 2021.

Option Writing/Purchasing: Certain Funds may write or purchase option contracts to adjust risk and return of their overall investment positions. When a Fund writes or purchases an option, an amount equal to the premium received or paid by the Fund is recorded as a liability or an asset and is subsequently adjusted to the current market value of the option written or purchased. Premiums received or paid from writing or purchasing options that expire unexercised are treated by the Fund on the expiration date as realized gains or losses. The difference between the premium and the amount paid or received on effecting a closing purchase or sale transaction, including brokerage commissions, is also treated as a realized gain or loss. If an option is exercised, the premium paid or received is added to the cost of the purchase or proceeds from the sale in determining whether the Fund has realized a gain or loss on investment transactions. Risks from entering into option transactions arise from the potential inability of counterparties to meet the terms of the contracts, the potential inability to enter into closing transactions because of an illiquid secondary market and from unexpected movements in security values.

8. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

The Funds indemnify the Trust's officers and Trustees for certain liabilities that might arise from their performance of their duties to the Funds. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Funds enter into contracts that contain a variety of representations and warranties and that provide general indemnifications. The Funds' maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Funds that have not yet occurred. However, based on experience, the Funds expect the risk of loss to be remote.

 Judson P. Doherty is an Interested Trustee because he is an employee of the Advisor.

At an in-person meeting held on February 22, 2021, at which all of the Trustees were present the Board of Trustees (the “Board”), including the Trustees who are not “interested persons,” as defined by the Investment Company Act of 1940 (the “1940 Act”), of the Trust (the “Independent Trustees”) voting separately, reviewed and approved the Investment Advisory Agreements (the “Advisory Agreements”) with the Advisor for the Stadion Tactical Growth Fund, the Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund and the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund (each a “Fund” and together, the “Funds”).

In the course of their deliberations, the Board was advised by legal counsel and the Independent Trustees were advised by independent legal counsel. The Board received and reviewed a substantial amount of information provided by the Advisor in response to requests of the Board and counsel. In considering the approval of the Advisory Agreements and reaching their conclusions with respect thereto, the Board reviewed and analyzed various factors that they determined were relevant, including the factors described below:

- (i) The nature, extent, and quality of the services provided by the Advisor. In this regard, the Board reviewed the services being provided by the Advisor to the Stadion Tactical Growth Fund, the Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund and the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund, including, without limitation, the nature and quality of the investment advisory services since each Fund’s inception, its coordination of services for the Funds by the Funds’ service providers, and its compliance procedures and practices. The Board noted that certain of the Trust’s executive officers are employees of the Advisor, and serve the Trust without additional compensation from the Funds. After reviewing the foregoing information and further information in the Advisor Memorandum, the Board concluded that the quality, extent, and nature of the services provided by the Advisor are satisfactory and adequate for the Funds.
- (ii) The investment performance of the Funds and Advisor. In this regard, the Board compared the performance of the Stadion Tactical Growth Fund, the Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund and the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund with the performance of each Fund’s benchmark indices and comparable peer group funds. The Board also considered the success and consistency of the Advisor’s management of each Fund in implementing the Fund’s investment objective and policies. The Board considered the performance of other funds identified by the Advisor as “competitor” funds, other funds in each Funds’ Morningstar category, and each Funds’ Morningstar ratings; however, the Board noted that comparisons with other funds in the Funds’ respective Morningstar categories are of limited benefit considering each Funds’ relatively unique investment approaches and the smaller total assets of the Funds compared to their peers. After consideration of the short and long-term investment performance of each Fund, the Advisor’s experience in managing the Funds and separate accounts, the continuity of the Advisor’s personnel and other factors, the Board concluded that the investment performance of the Funds and the Advisor was consistent with the Funds’ investment objective and policies and therefore satisfactory.
- (iii) The costs of the services to be provided and profits to be realized by the Advisor from its relationship with the Funds. In this regard, the Board considered the Advisor’s staffing, personnel, and methods of operating; the Advisor’s compliance policies and procedures; the financial condition of the Advisor and the level of commitment to the Funds and the Advisor by the principals of the Advisor; the asset levels of the Funds; the Advisor’s prior payment of startup costs for the Funds; and the overall expenses of the Funds, including certain fee waivers and expense reimbursements by the Advisor on behalf of the Funds. The Board discussed each Fund’s Expense Limitation Agreement with the Advisor, and considered the Advisor’s past fee waivers with respect to each Fund.

The Board also considered potential benefits to the Advisor in managing the Funds, including promotion of the Advisor’s name and the ability for the Advisor to place small accounts into the Funds. The Board compared the fees and expenses of each Fund (including the management fee) to a peer group of other funds comparable to the Fund. It was noted that, while the management fee and net expense ratio of each of the Funds were generally higher than the Morningstar category average, each Fund has a relatively unique investment approach and smaller assets under management, with comparable funds achieving better economics of scale, and therefore comparisons of the Funds’ expenses with other funds in the Funds’ respective Morningstar category were not necessarily appropriate. The Board also considered that each Fund’s size was smaller than many funds in their respective Morningstar category average. The Board also compared the fees paid by each Fund to fees paid by other funds identified by Advisor as “competitor” funds. The Board also compared the fees paid by each Fund to fees paid by other SMA clients of the Advisor, and considered the similarities and differences in the services received by such other clients as compared to the services received by the Funds. Following these comparisons and upon further consideration and discussion of the foregoing, the Board concluded that the fees to be paid to the Advisor by Stadion Tactical Growth Fund, the Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund and the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund are appropriate and within the range of what would have been negotiated at arm’s length.

- (iv) The extent to which economies of scale would be realized as the Stadion Tactical Growth Fund, the Stadion Tactical Defensive Fund and the Stadion Trilogy Alternative Return Fund grow and whether management fee levels reflect these economies of scale for the benefit of each Fund’s investors. In this regard, the Board considered that each Fund’s fee arrangement with the Advisor involves both a management fee and an Expense Limitation Agreement. The Board considered that several Funds were currently experiencing benefits from the Fund’s Expense Limitation Agreement, and that several Funds have experienced benefits from its Expense Limitation Agreement in prior years.

The Board also considered the benefit to the Funds of the existing fee breakpoints. Going forward, the Board noted that each Fund has the potential to benefit from economies of scale under its agreements with the Advisor and other service providers, and acknowledged that, due to the Advisor's unique investment approach, expected benefits from improved economies of scale may be lessened because of the additional complexities faced by the Advisor even if assets under management increase. Following further discussion of the Funds' asset levels, expectations for growth and levels of fees, the Board determined that the Funds' fee arrangements with the Advisor continue to provide benefits through the Expense Limitation Agreement and that, at the Funds' current and projected asset levels for the next year, the Funds' arrangements with the Advisor are fair and reasonable.

After full consideration of the above factors as well as other factors, the Board unanimously concluded that approval of the Advisory Agreements was in the best interest of the Funds and its shareholders. No single factor was considered in isolation or to be determinative to the decision of the Trustees to approve the Advisory Agreements. Rather, the Trustees concluded, in light of their weighing and balancing all factors, that approval of the Advisory Agreements was in the best interest of the Funds and its shareholders.
